The southern mail which reached this city yester-

ty. The victory which they have so gloriously, but "The efforts which Denmark has made to acquire not unexpectedly, achieved, is full, complete and decided. The city of New Orleans, which gave a maiority of nearly three thousand for the know-nothings last fall, now gives for a portion of the know-noth ing ticket a nominal majority of only four hund red and six, which majority was secured by fraud, violence and murder.

The Louisiana Courier of the 7th instant thus notices some of the election scenes in New Orleans, and their consequences: "With the exception of an occasional knock-down ture took place until after they had been closed .-The result, so far as the leading 'patriots and sons of the soil' could ascertain, was, we should judge from what subsequently took place, anything but satisfactory. There was actually danger that they had failed to carry the city by any majority at allmuch less by their boasted one. It was necessary to on condition that an indemnity be made by all the to save the credit, as prophets, of their orators and united Baltic States." organs; and hence the immediate question was, how to effect that great end. We think there was but little time occupied in deliberation before it was resolved that, as the seventh and ninth precincts doubtless contained larger anti-know-nothing majorities than any others, they should in turn be stormed, and their vote thereby, if possible, destroyed. The attack was begun at the ninth precinct, and took place, we hear, about 91 o'clock, p. m. Everything was perfectly quiet, and the commissioners and clerks were engaged in counting the votes, when all at once a number of men who, according to our informant, were genteely dressed, and who were not rowdies, in the usual acceptation of the term, made their appearance in the room. After several of them had ad some conversation, in an under tone, with one of the commissioners, two of them rushed at the ballot box, while their acquaintance was stooping over it, seized it, threw it into the air, and, when it fell, oined with their companions in trampling it to pieces, and kicking the ballots which it contained about the room. The box contained 405 votes, of which there was an average democratic majority, according to a count made by two of the commissioners, of about 130 for the democratic candidates. No loud words were used; the thing had evidently been concerted, and so soon as their work was accomplished the valiant patriots retired. The destruction of this election of Messrs. Denmark and the Sound Dues.

There can be little doubt that the Denmark Sound Dues question, is destined to excite far more extended attention than was at first surmised, and it is the 5th, 6th, and 7th instant. They contain sufficient highly possible that were not the principal powers of Europe at present busied with other matters, quite rant the confident belief that the democracy of Louisiana have nobly justified the confidence reposed in ter. In the Journal des Debats of the 12th Oct., we the support of the Western powers in her disagreement with the United States, have succeeded to a certain point. The French government maintains in effect the principle that the question of the payment of the Sound Dues is an European question, and that it cannot be settled by separate negotiations between Denmark and any other States in particular, but only by a Congress in which every State interested must take part. As the treaty between the United States and Denmark expires in a few months, it is possible that this Congress will soon be assembled. Meanat several other polls, nothing of a very serious nawhile only preparatory arrangements will be made, so that after the re-establishment of peace Russia may also take part in the definite arrangements. It is generally reported that in this question Denmark is endeavoring to separate the Baltic States from the other European powers. Denmark will, if reduced to the last extremity, yield the Sound Dues, but only

We give the above as we find it. It it has a color of truth, and doubtless expresses what France would gladly do, if expedient. Meanwhile, it cannot be denied that there lies at the bottom of the Sound Dues question a principle which not only concerns France and the rest of Europe quite as much as ourselves, but even more so. It is whether feudal pre-cedent, tradition and political prescription is to be recognized as superior to the active and positive in-terests of a world which is every year becoming more and more a strictly business community? In other words, the question is-are the Baltic dues claimed on the ground of prescription, or as an equivalent for expenses incurred and for benefits bestowed. If the latter, all that remains is to settle the terms, but if the former, we have a question which very nearly concerns all Europe, and which cannot but produce the most astounding results. Let the principle of middle age precedent and the abstract right of prescription be eliminated from the present European code of international law and we shall see the beginning of a movement which will go further towards upsetting the present order of European institutions than any other question now on the political chess board. The tendency of the age is in this direction, for business and commerce are diametrically opposed in every imaginable particular to middle age traditions, grounded on that bygone right of the strong ballot box secured, as the performers thought, the hand which is now weak and trembling. We can readily understand that in such a state of affairs, Denmark would much prefer a separate treaty with negotiations with the kingdoms of Europe. Sufferers by the Burlington Massacre.

We recently noticed the fact that $5000 damages had been recovered in one of the Virginia courts by small democratic majorities were destroyed on Mon. a gentleman who had been injured by the upsetting of the stage. The New York Herald mentions a She is never spoken of at Munich except in a low cinct Wickliffe had a majority of 213, and Bell's ma- verdict of the same amount which has been recently tone, and with mysterious airs, as they do in Egypt jority was 234. The majority in the ninth precinct recovered in Pennsylvania, for injuries received by was at least 21 for these candidates, and some say it was as high as 60; but we doubt this, because the widow, of Lancaster, Pa., has recently recovered four thousand dollars damages from a railway comcounted and returned to the sheriff, and they show pany, for the loss of her husband, whose death was caused by the breaking of a rail. In these two latter cases, according to the Herald, all due care was used-there was no culpable haste to save a few minutes of time-no forgetting to sound the signal ted by a small majority. In the second district Col. Hunt (know-nothing) is undoubtedly defeated. His nominal majority in the city precincts is only forty: asks, if these persons received so much when there was no criminal carelessness or despicable meanness votes. As we have already stated, the delegation from on the part of the carriers, what ought the unfortunate sufferers by the Burlington massacre to receive? Let them reflect upon this before they accede to any terms of compromise—before they accept one of Com-modore Stockton's "gratuities." Most justly does the Herald remark that the survivors owe a duty to their fellow-men, and it is to be hoped that they will listen to no compromise. On this subject, the Richmond Dispatch adds, there is no mode of preventing the horrible massacres of railroad passengers which are of such frequent occurrence in this country, except by making the railroad corporations pay an ounce of gold for every ounce of blood they shed. Touch them on the money nerve, and they will learn vigilance and humanity. Above all other companies in the United States, the perpetrators of the Burlington massacre ought to be made to bleed in every vein. The horrid recklessness which caused that fearful massacre, and the heartless indifference afterwards manifested by the company, demand the most signal pecuniary retribution, the only kind of retribution that can reach a tender spot in their organization.

MRS. PARTINGTON AT THE, CATTLE SHOW .- " This is a very beautiful sight for a person with a refined beastly taste," said Mrs. Partington at the agricultural show, looking at the big sheep, and addressing a all young man by her side. He responded "yes'm." "Is that a hydraulic ram?" she asked with great simplicity, provoking a smile on the young man's face, and a loud laugh from outsiders who were attracted by the black bonnet. The young man informed her that this was a long wool sheep, from which very long yarn was spun. "Ah !" said she, you are very kind : The portrait of Lola Montes is between two windows and not far from that of the reigning queen, Still House, by himself, and went away, and it was but can you tell me if the pope has sent any of his but can you tell me if the ling tremendously, "but among the swine is a descendant of the great Boanerges. They laughed even louder when he found swinging from his button behind, a tag bearing the inscription, "Vermont Boy," with age and weight given, but he didn't. And Ike was looking so innocently all the while, trying to make the ram sneeze by tickling his nose with a straw !- Boston Post.

It is something worthy of remark, that the Engsume that Seward, Chase, Wilson, Hale, Johnson of agogues, and some of them members of the order. are about as dangerous and worthy of exclusion as excluding a few foreign-born demagogues, you deem mon the same principle you would, to be consistent, be compelled to exclude every native citizen so as to exclude Seward and Company. This at once strikes every reader as something monstrous, and so it is; still it is but the plain, logical consequence of the rule laid down in justification of the indiscriminate exclusion of naturalized citizens.

Reason and common sense sa that, in order to exclude dangerous men of any class, you must find out your men-judge of them by their conduct and their principles, their honesty and their capability. If an examination of these matters satisfies you, why then, right; if it does not satisfy you, try and find such men with such principles as will; but remember, that demagogueism in all times and places has been found mounted upon hobbies and riding them to the death-pushing abstract notions to lengths amounting to the grossest tyranny; taking advantage of excitements against evils, real or otherwise, and fanning the flames until the desire for proper and needed reforms become merged in a wild and indiscriminate foray, and that legislative progress, which to be permanent and useful must be gradual and considerate, is rendered impossible by the turmoil and confusion of battle which prevents calm and candid reflection, and judicious action. held on Tuesday evening last at Temperance Hall, at which T. James Norcom, Esq., presided, and Mr. Joseph J. Lippitt was requested to act as Secretary. The object of the meeting was to receive the report of the committee appointed previously to prepare a ticket for Town Commissioners. The ticket reported closes its article with the following paragraph " And, now, we would ask the Journal and those with whom it acts, if the gentlemen whose names are thus pre-sented, have not a right, as property holders and influential citizens, 'to interfere in the local affairs of our town?'

This question implies a charge against "the Journal and those with whom it acts," or, at least, attributes to them a course of policy and the employment of language which they do not pursue and which they have not used. They wish to put an end to an organized interference in our local affairs the country. There is, properly speaking, no clear on the part of an order or party. This interference was initiated by that order or party which this ticket represents. They war not against individuals, but against the system under which no man could be otherwise than an outsider without first subscribing to the tenets of an order. With all due respect to the Herald's ticket, we must be allowed to say that, the anti-Know Nothing ticket comprises the names field comes with the prima facie evidences of his of gentlemen certainly as worthy, and as much entitled to the character of property-holders, influential citizens and good men, as their opponents, or as any men in town; and yet, under the system of exclusion introduced by the order, they, and hundreds of other worthy men, would be simply outsiders, with their names paraded, even now paraded, in the town in which they live and where their value is known, as "Anti-Americans." It is this system-this interference in our local affairs against which the liberal, anti-Know Nothing party wars. The Herald's ticket comes forward on behalf of this system. We trust that it may be defeated. No one is called to wage war upon individuals.

> The Congress of the United States will meet at Washington on the first Monday in Decemberthe third day of the month. We fear that the session will be a stormy one—one calculated to do harm rather than good-to widen rather than heal the unfortunate breach between the different sections of majority of any party in the House. No party can control anything by its own unaided strength. This will complicate things, and can hardly fail to promote bargains and arrangements, with all their lowering effect upon the standard of Congressional morals. At the very outset the Kanzas question will come up as an element in the organization. Whitright to represent Kanzas as Territorial Delegate, and will of course take his seat. From these extracts we can judge of the calculations formed in England upon the probability of a rupture between the States upon the question of slavery, and the interest that unprincipled power has in fomenting this anti-slavery agitation, which it looks to as an element of weakness in the confederacy, while it regards the abolitionists as its virtual allies in any Another element of division, and of consequent weakness, upon which English calculations are pased, is the mutual distrust between citizens of native and foreign birth, which has been so industriously labored for of late days. The London papers talk as truculently as though they were all edited by the shade of Ned Buntline, with its education somewhat improved.

We sincerely trust that these calculations may prove to have been woefully mistaken. That the arrayment of non-slaveholder against slave-holderof protestant against catholic -- of native against foreign-born citizens-cannot but prove dangerous, is what no man will doubt; and the English govern- giving circulation, by sale, to its publications ment and press naturally enough presume upon this state of things. Well, the volunteer display was highly creditable. By this time we think that the permanence of our volunteer companies has ceased to be a matter of doubt or question. As for the other portion of the citizen soldiery, we do not think that the military spirit was very extensively diffused. There did not seem to be much pride taken in the "institution" of mustering. Col. Cantwell is evidently an officer who fully understands his duties and is determined to dis- Rev. John Tillett, at 7 o'clock, P. M. charge them; but we doubt whether even his exertions, or the exertions of anybody else, could infuse vitality into the militia system as it now exists in this State. If any citizen in the ranks yesterday, felt that he was discharging a patriotic duty, or acquiring military knowledge to be of service in the defence of the country, he felt different from what he looked. Some look upon mustering as a farce, others as a bore, but none as a blessing or a benefit. We cannot believe that any good can be effected by the present system. If, in this view, we are mistaken, we can only say that we share that mistake with nearly everybody we meet.

Far be it from us to undervalue the material of which the militia is composed. It is composed of the people en masse-of every body fit to carry arms, and therefore includes every defender of the country outside of the enlisted service. But it is the system against which we complain, inasmuch as experience has shown that system to be inefficient and generally distasteful to the people. Travelers say that our people are fond of military titles, and under this system they are of comparatively easy attainment .-Some officers really take a pride in military matters, and make a business to be fully informed and prac- relation. tised; but this leaven is too little to leaven the whole lump, and their efforts are virtually thrown away. An efficient paid State Inspector and instructor-a shorter term of actual service in the way of mustering-say five years-and a corresponding increase of the amount of service during that reduced period, might do much. A short, hap-hazard day of "booma-laddying" through the streets, leaves the squad where it started, plus much dust and other inconveniences. A good solid encampment for a week or two at a time, visited and reviewed by an instructed military man, would be quite another thing. This, however, is only a suggestion very loosely thrown out. Certainly, it would be difficult to devise a more powerless system than the present one.

Considerable responsibility may attach to that course as promotive of good feeling or the reverse. The easiest way is the best. Let us all pursue it.

The matter of registration, however, really has no positive effect, although the neglect of it has a negative one. Although no man can vote unless registered, still all doubtful questions, as to the legality of a vo- ment of 3. F. College. ter, must, as formerly, be decided at the polls, nor would we regard the registration of any name, about whose owner's right to vote some doubt may exist, as indicating any wish to vote illegally. It simply places him where he would have stood in former times without registration. It in no manner alters the relation of the person so registered. It costs nothing to register. We have no doubt that some gentlemen have registered their names because they intend to live here and vote in future, but know that they cannot vote now, not having been a year in the State, and so on. Names will not have to be registered twice, and so the thing might as well be attended to one time as another. We would say to any citizen who may not now be certain of his right to vote at the coming election, to register his name. If he should clearly ascertain his right before the day of election, he will not be estopped its exercise from the omission of this formality. If, on the other hand, the case should prove different, no harm will be done.

From the Boston Post

The French have taken Sebastopol south; a Brit. ish fleet is ordered into American waters, Louis Napoleon and my Lord Clarendon have declared that the America; and the British press,-the Chronicle in Halifax, the Albion, in New York, and the London Times, through a lackey writer of the present premier,-have mounted stilts and are talking astonish ingly loud, brave and threatening. And yet Jonathan's knees do not quake; his face does not grow Mr. Janieson, from the committee on Education, pale with fear; and he has not begun to put himthan may be very presumptuous, but it is his way. and he can't travel out of it.

But what's the matter with cousin John? Is his the pond and fight his battles for him? It must be The committee of finance made a report, which admitted that Mr. Bull is now cutting a curious figure before "the world and the rest of mankind" the fighting line. What he wants is a few battalions of that material which "constitutes a state"-high mettled men, who know their rights and are ready to maintain them-an article money cannot buy. This is the staple that John Bull most needs, but which he cannot get. No doubt this worries him.

To be just, we must honor the persistence of his remedial efforts. He tried first at home, and called for thousands, fifty we believe the number was, to go out to the war. His government issued proclamations; his recruiting agents scoured the three realms: his press sounded out imploringly the necessity; but Therefore Resolved, That such a paper, to be cal- John might as well have tried to call up spirits that Pluto holds chained in the lowest deep. The men would not come! Nor all England, Scotland and added, furnished a tithe of the number required.

But John has pluck, and did not " give it up so." He remembered the past-how a hundred years ago, (1756) when he feared a descent from a French army, he managed to get over masses of Hessian mercenaries from Germany to defend his native soil for him-and how he hired them, at a later time, to fight the rebel Americans. John thought of all this; and, paper, we ought to be ashamed to go home to our of it! A Hamburg letter, by the last arrival, gives the following account of the last results of the ac-

Several Danish soldiers have of late enlisted, but the great majority of the men who compose that corps formerly belonged to the disbanded army of Schleswig Holstein. Cousin John's efforts to maintain his ground are

> Jonathan must ask him, in relation to this business of getting men to fight, if he will not, for his own credit, take an observation and draw an inference. It so happened that, a year or two ago, Jonathan needed this same article of MEN to enable him to maintain his cause in a foreign land. He wanted to conquer Mexico into a peace. He made a call for fifty thousand. Did he have to go from home to get them? Did he send "recruiting agents" into Denmark and all over Germany, to sneak into petty duchies, and besides violating law, there engage cut-worthy of all praise, surely; but as he assumes airs, throats, the off-scouring of mankind, vile mercenaries, to come under his banner, and help defend his came? Say; did Jonathan think of prowling about John's purlieus, like a thief in the night, snatching away, here and there, from mines, and factories, and farms, wretches in a state of semi-barbarism? Why, the very suggestion would have more stirred Jonathan's bile, than would now the whole Sebastopol force on his soil arouse his fear! No; Jonathan quietly raised the stars and the stripes in different places on his farm; and not merely FIFTY THOUSAND, but FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND FREEMEN voluntarily gathered round this glorious and unsullied banner, and what most troubled Jonathan was, to know how to pick out of so many gallant men the few he really needed! Now cousin John Bull, you had better stop being gruff and surly, and impertinent, and arrogant, &c. towards Jonathan; and put this fact down in your note book. It's something worth considering, John Roll it all under your tongue, John. Stop grumbling long enough to think up to its full meaning and significance, John. There is a good deal to be inferred from this most striking revelation of national power which this age has seen, John. You might make forty such exhibitions of yourself as you have made last year in the Crimea-we say nothing about the French feats-and lose credit before the world each time; while the fact that HALF A MILLION OF FREE-MEN-exactly such men, John, as paid their respects to you at Bunker Hill, and Saratoga, and Yorktown, and New Orleans-volunteered to go out of their country to fight, tells how young America would look with arms in his hands! Think of a nation of sovereigns with arms in their hands, John!

But this is not all-not half of what you will do very well to think of, John. You are sending a few of your ships over here, are you? Well, Jonathan's farm is a good deal extended and exposed. A large part of it is not fenced in at all! And you might put five or fifty thousand of your "foreign legion" on it in many places-say in order to protect land!! Now there is a new problem in political arithmetic which you may think of. It would not hurt you a bit to work it out. If half a million of freemen volunteered, in 1846, to leave their pursuits, and go forth to defend the rights of their country in a foreign land, how many, John, would flock around the stars and stripes, from every walk in life, to chastise an invader of their native soil? How long would it be before these thousands of invaders would that away? Again we say, think up, John, to the eminent gravity of this question; to the half a million of men fact we have named; and let Jonathan alone.

The best thing Lord Palmerston can do is to order his fleet right back again. Here it looks saucy. tirades of the London Times and its echoes are really of no account. They are mere gasconade. cares for them? Too much consequence has always been attached to such things. This government gun business is another affair. But Jonathan's course is onward to his manifest destiny; and John should strive for grace to acknowledge, that no country in the world has derived so much profit from Jonathan's progress as has Great Britain; and no country will continue to derive one half the benefit from the sure march to greatness of these United States. John, don't grumble with your bread and butter.

From the Sandwich Islands---Letter of President Pierce to King Kamehameha, and the Reply. By the arrival of the bark Francis Palmer at San Francisco, we have dates from Honolulu to the 22d

On Thursday, 20th September, Hon D. L. Gregg had an audience of his Majesty at noon, requested in the name of the President of the United States, to deliver the reply to the King's letter of the 15th of February The following is a copy of the letter: FRANKLIN PIERCE, PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, TO HIS MAJESTY KAMEHAMEHA, IV.

Great and Good Friend:- I have received the letter. which, under date of the 15th of February last, your Majesty addressed to me, annuuncing the demise of your predecessor, the King Hamehameha III, and the fact of your Majesty's accession to the throne of your forefathers. Your Majesty is not mistaken in supposing that I partake of the sorrow occasioned by the death of the late King. His Majesty had giv-en such decided and repeated proofs of his warm friendship for the United States, and their citizens restoring to the Hawaiian Kingdom, that he was regarded by the government and people of this country with sentiments of more than ordinary confidence and esteem. While offering my sincere condolence for the loss of one so nearly related to your Majesty, and so tenderly beloved by the Hawaiian people, it affords me peculiar gratification to congratulate your Majesty upon your accession to the throne of Hawaii, and to receive the assurance that your Majesty is not indifferent to the sympathy and good will of the Executive and people of the United States. Such sentiments towards the sovereign and people of Hawaii, have ever been cherished by the United States, and they are especially entertained in behalf of your Majesty, under whose liberal, wise and enlightened doubt not the relations between the erements will become more intimate; and the welfare and happines of your Majesty's subjects greatly enlarged. Praying that God will vouchsafe to your Majesty a long, prosperous and happy reign; and commending you to his safe and holy keeping, I am with sincere esteem and high regard, your Majes-

the occasion the King said: I will not do my own feelings the injustice of attempting to disguise the fact that at the present moment this communication from the head of your government, according to my appreciation of it, loses entirely its formal character, and appears to express only the sentiments of a friend who has proved him. self worthy of that high name. The treaty recently negotiated between my envoy at Washington and Mr. Marcy, on the part of the United States, is, indeed but one link in the chain that binds the two countries in relations of the most happy kind. But it is a convention of the greatest importance, not only to those who are numbered among my subjects, but to every American citizen who has any interests upon these islands. I do not doubt but its effects will be to call hither more of your enterprising countrymen, and direct towards the now partially developed resources of this archipelago the attention of your udicious but ready capitalists. Under this treaty we may expect to see American citizens raising the produce which American ships will carry to an Amer-

The Three Millions due Mexico. Washington, Nov. 18.—The report of the Mexican Boundary Commission, duly signed by Major Emory, was placed in the State Department yesterday. It is probable, therefore, that the Cabinet will take immediate action with regard to the disposition of the $3,000,000 balance due for the purchase of the Mesilla Valley. It is believed that the Attorney General will report in favor of paying that balance to holders of Santa Anna's drafts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 .- The steamer Cahawba arrived here this morning from New Orleans via Havana with dates from the latter port to the 13th. Business generally was dull. Sugar was dull and prices had declined a trifle. Freights were inactive. The health of the Island was good, and political affairs were quiet. Owing to the derangement of the Southern mails between Mobile and Montgomery, the New Orleans mails of the 9th and 10th inst. were put on board the Cahawba, as also the mails for the English steamer which sails on Wednesday

The Herald announces the formation of a mammoth Telegraph Company, which proposes to all old lines to build new ones, so as to bring them under the control of one concern. It is proposed to have a met-work of wires leading to New York from every business place in the United States. The Company is to be composed of well-known capitalists and business men; and they have already secured Hughes' electro-magnetic telegraph patent for one to two hun-dred thousand dollars, and leased all the direct lines

oughly renovated from cellar to garret, and turnished thro-out with new furniture, selected with special care, and arranged with an eye single to the comforts of the casual guest or permanent boarder.

THE TABLE

Will be richly furnished with the substantials, the dainties and delicacies of the seasons, foreign as well as domestic markets will be rendered tributary to the constant supply, which will be served up in the best style by orderly, obliging and well-trained servants.
THE BAR

Will be a storehouse of the best Wines and Liquors, and superintended by a gentleman of courtesy and integrity, thoroughly acquainted with his business—comprising the knowledge of what is due to the rights and comforts of the public, as well as to himself and his employer.

THE STABLES,

Which are among the best in the State, have been placed in the keeping of a skillful and careful manager, who will always have under his care the best and most experienced ost-lers, and it will be among the chief cares of the proprietor to see that horses of his guests be well fed and thorougly groomed.

This entire establishment has been purchased and fitted up at an enormous expense, and it will be the pleasure, as, of course, it will be the interest, of the subscriber to render the House in every respect equal to any in the country. He therefore trusts that a generous public will renew and continue the liberal patronage heretofore extended to this House while under the care of its former proprietress, Mrs. Borden, who gained for it a celebrity throughout the entire Union.  REVIEW OF THE WILMINGTON MARKET.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING NOVEMBER 22D, 1855. TURPENTINE-Has been in active demand throughout the THE HOUSE has been remodelled, repaired, and therweek from shippers, which, with light receipts, has caused may be considered firm at $3 10 for yellow dip and $2 for hard, # 280 lbs. The transactions for the week ended this morning foot up 2,270 bbls, as follows:

Bbls. Virgin. Yellow dip. Friday 754 $3 05 $2 00 Saturday 606 3 05 2 00 Monday 310 3 05 2 00 at $2 48.]

SPIRITS TURPENTINE-The market has ruled unsteady since last review, as wil be seen from our table below, prices fluctuating from 4I to 42½ cents p gallon—closing on Wednesday at lowest figure. This morning it is rather dull, and buyers not disposed to operate; no sales up to the time of closing our report. The week's transactions foot up 3,092 bbls., viz: Friday...... 803 bbls. at 41 cents per gallon.
Saturday..... 1300 " 42 " "
Monday..... 400 " 42½ " " Monday .....

Thursday there was an advance of 2½ cents, but since the no sales have transpired. Sales for the week as follows: Thursday .....1,000 bbls at $1 15 for large bbls. We learn that $1 15 has been offered for large bbls. holders are asking higher prices. In No. 1 we notice small sales at $1 50, $2 25@$2 40 $\pi$ bbl., as in quality.

TAR—Has been in fair enquiry for shipping purposes during the week, with light receipts, and on Tuesday we note an advance of 5 cents. The sales foot up only 656 bbls.

...... 70 bbls. at $2 20 % bbl. None offering to-day, and market firm as above.

BEEF CATTLE—For beeves we notice a fair demand, small arrivals for some time past; the stock in butchers hands has been nearly all worked off, and is exceedingly light.

We continue former prices, at which it would sell readily-5 @ 6 cents @ lb. for grass fed, as in quality.

CANDLES—We advance store rates a shade on adamantine. COFFEE—Off all descriptions is in light supply, but fully fair for the demand, which is limited. Small sales for the week at prices ranging within quotations, as in quality. See Corron-There has been very little doing in this article since last review, owing to the small quantity received, and last sale shows an advance of 4 cent. The sales have been of small parcels at $4 cents for middling, and $4 @ $4 cents $7 lb. for good middling;—a small lot of jethro sold at 9 cents CORN MEAL-No change in price, and supply moderate .-

Some parcels received per railroad, and we notice sales from store at 95 cents @ $1 p bushel, as in quantity.

EMPTY BARRELS—For Spirits Terpentine barrels there is more enquiry, and the stock on market has been considerably reduced. We quote at $1 75 for second hand and $2 for new, with small sales. for new, with small sales.

LISH—Mullets have ruled exceedingly dull during the past week, with a decline of 50 cents @ $1. About 462 bbls. received, of which sales of 265 bbls. have been made at $5, $5 12\frac{1}{2} @ $5 50 for pine and oak bbls.; the balance are unsold. See table for store rates of Herring and Mackental are acceptable.

Grain—In Corn there is very little doing. Several small parcels have arrived per railroad (in all about 600 bushels) and closed off at 82½, 85 @ 90 cents # bushel, as in quality; these figures, however, are above dealers views, and a cargo would hardly bring over 80 cents. We quote at 80 @ 85 cents, as in quantity.

Oars—A cargo of 1.100 bushels received on Thursday last from Hyde county, and sold at 40 cents # bushels are advented in the product of the second cents a bushel—an advance of 5 cents on previous quotation. There is a fair supply now in dealers hands, and demand limited.——Peas—Small sales from store of new crop Cow at 85 cents & bushel; very few on market. Ground have come so cents & bushel; very lew on market. Ground have come in more freely during the past week, which has caused a further decline, and the sales have been at from $1.5 to $1.30 $\mathbb{B}$ bushel, as in quality;—there is a fair demand from dealers.—Rice—Clean remains about the same, with sales in the small way at 5\mathbb{A}$ cents $\mathbb{B}$ B. Nothing doing in rough; some parcels on market, for which holders are asking $1.10, and buyers offering $\mathbb{B}$ bushel.

Small Favors Thankfully Received. It is somewhat amusing to notice the exultation of the Organs of "Sam" over the result of some recent elections, which has given a deceptive appearance of vitality to the aforesaid "Sam." Elections have taken place this month in Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Maryland, Mississippi and Louisiana, as also an exciting municipal election in the city of Charleston. In Massachusetts Sam has succeeded in obtaining a plurality, though polling less than half the votes of the State-though, truth to tell, nobody expected Massachusetts to go for the Democrats, and between the Know-Nothings and the Fusionists there was little to choose. This is K. N. triumph No. 1. It is like the Dutch taking Holland, and certainly they are welcome to keep it. Next, New York. The Know-Nothings, mustering all their forces, with all their organization complete, polled less than ninety thousand votes-less than one-fourth of the real vote of the State, for New York can poll over four hundred thousand-has polled four times the Know-Nothing strength as shown by this election. To show another thing-the real strength of the United Democracy; -every man supported by both wings of the party was re-elected. Thus, in New York, "Sam" has carried the offices by accident, but really numbers among his friends or followers less than one fourth of the people. This is a triumph with a

Next comes Maryland. Well, we regret the result in Maryland. The majority is not large-between two and three thousand-but it carries the State, and places Maryland beside Kentucky, the only Southern States that have gone for the Know-Nothing ticket. These are the Know-Nothing triumphs: -Massachuseits, the very hot-bed of anti-Southernism; New York, by one-fourth of the people; and Maryland by a system of electioneering almost without a parallel.

A letter was received from Goldsboro', setting forth the need of a house of worship, and of a minister at Mr. McNeal, Secretary of the American Bible Sothat place, which elicited some interesting remarks ciety, and Rev. Mr. Stanley, of the Virginia Conferfrom different members of the Convention, and amongst them from Mr. Wood, the delegate from senting in a clear and forcible manner the condition that place. The matter was referred to the Board of and claims of the American Bible Society. Managers for further action.

On Saturday night a mass meeting was held in favor of the Education Society, and on Sunday night for the promotion of Home Missions. The amount raised at the three mass meetings was $800. It was resolved to appoint no Regular Agent, with the proviso that the Board of Managers might, if they saw cause to do so, employ a Special Agent. Rev. Mr. Devin, from the Committee on Special Changes, made a report in which he touchingly and impressively adverted to the deaths, within the past Convention year, of Revs. John Purify, and Wm. C. Patterson, and paid becoming tributes to their memories.

We must conclude this very brief synopsis of the report of the "News." The meeting was evidently a good one.

"HIGH 'CHANGE."-Friday we had the pleasure of standing, at one o'clock, upon the spot " where Merchants most do congregate," namely, under the weeping willow standing in the open space in front of Mr. Houston's Store, on South Water Street. Here by mutual agreement "'change" is to be held each day at one o'clock. The arrangement, we look upon Advocate, and Dr. Taylor, Missionary from China, as a good one, for various reasons. THE FOREIGN NEWS .- Virtually the campaign of 1855 is closed. The terrible experiences of the last winter lead all parties to make early provision for the winter. If, under the existing state of things, the Russians can safely winter in the Crimea, we are inclined to think that no active operations of the allies will interfere with them. The allies have certainly obtained a better stand-point from which to commence actively in the spring. They will endeavor to improve all their advantages with reference to the time when active operations can be resumed rather than to any immediate effort. Should a battle occur, it can only be brought on by the Russians from the same cause which impelled them to the contest at Tratkir Bridge on the Tchernayathe actual necessities of their position. Talk is made of peace, but apparently with no good foundation-certainly with little expectation of any immediate result. The appointment of Sir Edward Codrington to the chief command of the British army in the Crimea is of a piece with the miserable system of favoritism which is sinking the British service beneath contempt. The idea of a possible war with the United States appears to have deeply agitated the public mind in England-more deeply, indeed, than the war with Russia when impending. The returns above published show that William P Miles, the anti-Know-Nothing candidate for Mayor, is elected by a majority of 420, and that the whole ticket for Aldermen run by his friends, is successful. We need not say that we rejoice in this result. But it is in no sort as a triumph over men. Whatever bitterness others may have contracted, we have not Dr. S. J. Wheeler. England-The Difficulty with the United States. An extraordinary excitement prevailed throughout England, amounting to almost a panic, on the subject of a war with the United States. The London Times, in a series of malicious editorials, started the subject, which, exaggerated by the provincial press, speedily obtained such dimensions that extras were issued announcing that the American Minister had demanded his passports.

General astonishment and regret were excited by this announcement, and energetic protests were made against the Government forcing the country into a dangerous war. Our Liverpool agent telegraphed to Mr. Buchanan, ing explicit contradiction "London, Friday Night, Nov. 2, 1855. It is not true that the American Minister has demanded his passports from the British Government, and there is no foundation for such a report." Notwithstanding this denial, an uneasy feeling re-

On the other hand all the letters from Vienna allude to rumors of peace. The correspondence of the Daily News, declares that Russia positively intimated at both the Courts of the Great German Fowers, her willingness to negotiate alone upon the basis of the four points, and that of the allies of December 2d. The latter are disinclined to resume a diplomatic conference, although the Western Powers have at the same time declared that they can only consent to such a step when there is a sure prospect of attaining a satisfactory result. DECISION BY JUDGE PERSON.—By a communication in the Newbern Journal, we learn that Judge Person made quite an important decision while hold ing Court there last week. The writer says:

"This community has been much enlightened by the learned and clear opinions on the subject of selling without license, delivered by his Honor, Judge Person, during last week of Superior Court in this place. He decided that a retailer could only sell under his retail license at his usual place of residence, that Druggists could not sell less than a quart of Liquor, unless as a medicine to be prescribed by a regular Physician, that a sealed bottle holding less than a quart was under the same prohibition, in other words putting them in the same position as other dealears who sell as a beverage, less than a quart without license. This I look upon as no more than strict justice in carrying out our present License Laws, and treating all alike who violate them."

one of them." He is referring to the daily routine First: Gets up in the morning at ten o'clock, dresses himself, puts on his hat, in which are six or seven bullet holes, and goes to a restaurant for breakfast. After breakfast, starts to the office to look over the papers, and discovers that he is called a coward in one of them, a liar in another, and a puppy in another; he smiles at the pleasant prospect of having something to do; fills out and dispatches three blank challenges, a ream or two of which he always keeps on hand, ready printed, to save time; commences writing a leader, when as the clock strikes eleven a large man, with a cowhide in one hand, a pistol in the other, a bowie-knife in his belt, walks in and asks if his name is ---; he answers by knocking the intruder down two pair of stairs with a chair.

At twelve o'clock finds that his challenges have been accepted, and suddenly remembers that he has a little affair of that nature to settle at the heach that day, at three o'clock; goes out and kills his man, and then comes in and dines on stewed grizzly: starts for the office, and while going there gets mixed in a street row, and has the heel of his boot shot off by accident; laughs to think how beautifully it was done; arrives at his sanctum and finds an "infernal machine" upon the table, knows what it is, and merely pitches it out of the window; writes an article on "moral reform," and then starts for the theatre; is attacked on the corner of a dark alley by three men, kills two of them and takes the other to the station house. Returning to the office at eleven o'clock at night, kills a dog with a paving stone gets run over by a cab, and has the tail of his coat slitted open by a thrust from a knife, and two bullet holes put through his beaver as he steps within his own door; smiles at his escape, writes until two o'clock and then turns in, with the happy consciousness of having two duels to fight the next day.

ANOTHER MUNCHAUSEN. - Some of the English ournals seem to be vieing with each other in the utterance of absurd stories concerning the United States. We have already alluded to the ridiculous fables put into circulation by the London Times, the London Morning Chronicle, and the London Globe. We subjoin another brilliant illustration from the London Daily News of the 19th. The subject treated is the pro-Russian sympathies of the United States. and on fair uplands of Id. The Orleans and In this we have the delicious bit of information that Russians swarm in all the States, and especially in the most enlightened, hich take the lead in politics. and in the slave States of the first rank, whose particular function is to keep in check the constitutional republicanism of the North, and who amuse themselves in the intervals of business with planning the separation of Canada (with its twenty thousand of fugitive slaves and their progeney) from England, and its annexation to the States. To such listeners. Russians (some of them the Czar's 'own correspondents') talk constantly and effectively of Russian greatness, influence, wealth, civilization and so forth.

GREAT OCEAN STEAMERS.—The Persia steamship, belonging to the Cunard line, recently launched at Glasgow; the Adriatic, belonging to the Collins line, and the New York, belonging to C. Vanderbuilt, now building in New York, will be, when completed, the largest merchant steamers in the world. They will be about 5000 tons burthen each, and will afford ample opportunity for proving the quality of each in the contest for the mastery of the Atlantic. The hull of the Persia is of iron, and her engines are to be side lever-timber. The former is said to have large oscillating engines, the latter beam engines.

The keel of the New York is straight, and so are all her water lines, and her centre of displacement is amidships; the Adriatic has hollow water lines, and has her centre of displacement 20 feet abaft mid-ships. The former is beith were industriously engaged upon it until yesterday at ducer, now a Lieutenant in the U. S. Army, is a ships. The former is built much stronger than the latter, and has more capacity for cargo. It is believed that the Adriatic has the finest formed hull for speed, and that it will be the fastest steamer affoat. Time, however, will try them all, their comparative stand that the young man is under heavy bail to performances will be of great importance to the ommercial and engineering classes of all countries. pository for the purpose of gratifying our numerous ady friends. It is a beautiful specimen of bijouterie. We desire that they all appropriate it to themselves, and regard it as their rightful property. But we would gently caution them not to "put on airs" on account of it:

"A pretty woman is one of the 'institutions' of the country-an angel in dry goods and glory. She makes sunshine, blue sky, Fourth of July and happiness wherever she goes. Her path is one of deli cious roses, perfume and beauty. She is a sweet poem, written in rare curls and choice calico, and good principles. Men stand up before her as so many admiration points, to melt into cream and then butter. Her words float round the ear like music, birds of Paradise, or the chimes of Sabbath bells. Without her, society would lose its truest attraction, the church its firmest reliance, and young men the very best of comforts and company. Her influence and generosity restrain the vicious, strengthen the weak, raise the lowly, flannel-shirt the heathen, and strengthen the faint hearted. Wherever you find the virtuous woman you also find pleasant fireside oquets, clean clothes, order, good living, gentle hearts, music, light and model 'institutions' gener ally. She is the flower of humanity, a very Venus in dimity, and her inspiration is the breath of Heav-

"GLORIOUS VICTORY."-The complete returns from Ohio show that the 'glerous victory' of the black Republicans is just no victory at all. Chase lacks about 10,000 of a majority on the popular vote. His plurality over Medill is 15,000, not 50,000! -- New York Day Book.
